ABOUT THIS REGISTER

Please accept this 22nd edition of the ASC Register, with our compliments. It summarises the background of each of our members, and the skills and services they have to offer. Within its pages you should be able to find one or more consultants with the necessary skills and experience to carry out any security assignment. Most of our members are happy to provide an initial consultation without obligation. You are free to make your arrangements directly with individual members. For further information on the Association, please contact:

The Secretary,
Association of Security Consultants,
Balderton Hall
Fernwood

Email: info@securityconsultants.org.uk

This register is supplied free of charge as a reference document for the identification of ASC member consultants and the services they offer.

- They have provided information solely for that purpose.
- Copying of the register or extracts from it, storage in a database or retrieval system, or use of the information for direct mailing services, is expressly prohibited.
- A mailing list of member's who are in agreement to their names being supplied, is available from the Secretary for a nominal charge.

MEMBERSHIP & ASSOCIATION

MEMBER

Membership is only open to principals and employees of independent security consultancies. Membership is on an individual basis and does not apply to the business whether it is sole trader, partnership or limited company. All changes of employment are to be notified to the ASC Board, which will consider the continued membership status.

Current fees are £50 (non-refundable) on application plus £160 subscription per annum, on acceptance.

Member consultants enjoy professional status, are entitled to use the post nominal MASC, qualify for an entry in the Register of Members and a website entry, which are available to potential clients as well as other organisations.

Other benefits include the opportunity to attend all ASC functions, use of the Association logo, circulation of ASC publications, the availability of informal advice and assistance as well as the chance to network with other, like minded, individuals.

Functions held throughout a year include Business Club meetings (also open to non-members), the Annual Awards luncheon, a keynote event to which VIP's and opinion formers are invited, Dinner at the House of Lords and the annual conference known as CONSEC.

The ASC also has reciprocal membership arrangements with the International Association of Professional Security Consultants (IAPSC) in the USA.

ASSOCIATES

Associate membership is open to any security practitioner employed to provide independent security advice e.g. corporate security advisors, insurance surveyors, crime prevention officers. It will also include applicants who are working towards meeting the core competencies or qualifications for membership.

Current fees are £50 (non-refundable) on application and £150 subscription per annum, on acceptance.

Benefits include access to all meetings, circulation of ASC publications and right to use the Association's logo subject to the approval of the Board.

Individuals registered on a recognised course of study, intending to pursue a career in security consulting.

£40 subscription per annum, on acceptance.

Benefits include access to all meetings and circulation of ASC publications but no right to use the Association's logo or name.

ABOUT THE ASSOCIATION

The ASC is the UK's professional association for independent security consultants. In representing and promoting their specific interests, it aims:

- to maintain the highest professional and business standards amongst its members and in the industry.
- to stay in the forefront of work on security methods, technology and applications.
- to contribute actively to the development and formulation of national and international standards, policy and practice in security.
- To promote excellence in relations with clients, security manufacturers and installers.

PATRONS

The Association is fortunate to have the following Patrons.

- Lord James Bethell Bt
- Lord Peter Imbert of New Romney CVO QPM DL
- Lord Brian Mackenzie of Framwellgate OBE LLB
- Air Chief Marshal Sir Stuart Peach KCB CBE ADC BA MPhil DTech DLitt FRAeS RAF
- Sir Hugh Orde OBE QPM

ABOUT OUR MEMBERS

All members are independent consultants or work for independent consultancies. All are leading experts in their fields, having no allegiance to specific suppliers of goods or services. Collectively their expertise and experience covers every facet of corporate security and all sectors of commerce and industry. Clients can be assured of the advantage of employing an ASC member.

CODE OF CONDUCT

Members agree to abide by the following obligations and conditions:

- To maintain a high standard of work and to act with integrity and impartiality solely in the interests of the client.
- To maintain confidentiality of information specific to the business of the client.
- To accept only those assignments which we consider ourselves competent to carry out personally and/or with the assistance of others who in our judgement are similarly competent and who comply with the requirements of this Code of Conduct.
- To disclose to the client any personal or financial interest, and any other significant circumstances which might involve a conflict of interest.
- To agree with the client in advance the objectives and scope of the assignment and the fees or fee basis and other terms and conditions. In the event of subsequent changes to the original brief, to submit a revised proposal to the client for his acceptance.
- To maintain effective communication with the client and to submit appropriate reports and documents.
- Additionally, members are required to conform to the requirements of BS8549:2006, Security Consultancy – Code of Practice and to maintain a record of Continuing Professional Development.

Aidan Anderson

RedLeaf Consultancy

Company Profile

As businesses develop, change processes or enter new markets they attract a spread of Risks whether those are Legal, Regulatory, Capital or Security. To provide certainty, risks need to be quantified to ensure the impacts they might have on a business, if not controlled, are understood. At RedLeaf Consultancy we help clients realise the security risks they are facing and recommend controls on those risks to mitigate their potential effect through:

- Generating clear security strategies supported by risk based policies and procedures.
- Ensuring that systematic Security Reviews and Audits are undertaken that test protective measures.
- Reviewing security structures, electronic systems and manned guarding to advise on their use, any cost saving initiatives or beneficial change in practice.
- Providing security education and advice on Social Engineering, Tiger Kidnapping and the Protection of Information.

Use RedLeaf Consultancy:

- To provide assessments that can be seen to be independent.
- Where there is a need to preserve confidentiality.
- If internal resources are limited or do not possess the right skillsets.
- Where timescales are tight.
- For banks and building societies.

RedLeaf Consultancy is in an area of high speed broadband, 20 minutes from a regional airport, which is connected to the whole of the United Kingdom and through international hubs, globally. RedLeaf Consultancy is available to speak to, correspond with or travel to meet the needs of your business.

Personal Details

Aidan Anderson built a career grounded in the British Army's Intelligence Corps where an appreciation of threats posed by individuals, nation states and terrorist groups to people, information and facilities was used to provide meaningful assessments on the risks posed. Aidan enhanced his career by employment in a major CCTV systems house where he designed complex and integrated systems for shopping centres, banks, oil terminals, seaports and government buildings before capping this by being both a Regional and Group Security Manager for 18 years in a High Street bank.

Few places offer the operational difficulties of Northern Ireland but working there, Aidan had to deal with the effects on business and people from terrorism, civil disorder, protest groups, tiger kidnappings and robberies. Aidan led the way in bringing security within the Risk Management Framework, ensured that the security risks posed by an increasing number of critical third party suppliers and sites was monitored and reported upon and innovative cost saving initiatives generated.

John Beasley

Liveryman of Worshipful Company of Security Professionals

Principal Protection Limited

Company Profile

Principal Protection Limited is a Close Protection specialist company that delivers protection solutions to high profile and high net worth individuals and businesses. The company is able to offer an enormous amount of practical solutions that are able to mitigate risks and rapidly give peace of mind. With true integration the team are able to design systems to cover: Global asset tracking, CCTV (including Recording and Transmission, Local and Remote), Access Control, Building Management control (including fire alarms), Data Security, Physical/Electronic security, Risk assessment and Data Protection Act compliance.

Principal Protection is wholly owned by its Senior Management team and from a consultancy perspective, independence from all other security services providers.

Personal Details

After spending 22 years in IT working for Lloyds TSB, where John became an Institute of Internal Auditors trained IT Inspector and later Data Security Manager. He then moved into physical and electronic security for five years, specialising in remote video monitoring, delivered by IP and traditional methods. During this period he also was involved in delivering a wide variety of security solutions to mainly blue chip clients on a consultancy basis. The culmination of which was becoming Principal Consultant on the security design for the protection of the UK 2001 Census.

Since starting a new company in 2001, John has continued to successfully provide a wide range of security solutions to large companies across the UK and Europe.

More recently he has been concentrating on providing solutions to high risk and high profile situations and individuals. This allows for short term measures to make way for longer term lower cost options of man/tech solutions.

Stephen Beels

SLB Consultants

Company Profile

SLB Consultants delivers a modern professional investigation service built upon traditional old-fashioned values. Due diligence, background investigations, people and asset tracing, open source intelligence and research are all offered to the highest standards supported by excellent personal customer care, integrity and discretion. We work with our clients to reduce their critical reputational and integrity risks by providing clarity in, what is often, an opaque business operating environment.

SLB Consultants partners bring you over sixty-five years Scotland Yard law enforcement and criminal intelligence experience, combined with commercial and corporate investigative skills.

Do you really know who you are doing business with?

“Conducting due diligence on potential associates ... should not be regarded as anything extraordinary. Rather, it reflects sound governance and forms an integral part of the risk-management process undertaken by a prudent and responsible operator. Due diligence also makes good business sense” - International Association of Oil & Gas Producers

By leveraging the expertise, contacts and international network of SLB Consultants, developed over many years, you are immediately reducing your exposure to the risks and threats of reputational and associated collateral damage.

Potential business associates and partners, senior executives and managers, in-country agents, customers, clients, vendors, investors, counter- and third-parties – all require the focus of critical due diligence to identify and mitigate risk.

Personal Details

Stephen is a highly-experienced former full-career Scotland Yard detective. Since 2007, he has been utilising those skills and knowledge, developed whilst investigating serious crime, to assist clients in the business and commercial environment. Once you commission SLB Consultants, Stephen will conduct the investigation, utilising many resources and contacts, including:

- Individual and Entity research
- International compliance and anti-money laundering (AML) checks
- International blacklists, watch lists and sanctions lists
- Global negative news
- Open source intelligence (including deep web and social media)
- Litigation history in key countries
- Country risk analysis
- Human intelligence (subject matter experts and those sources with relevant sector access)

All underpinned by confidentiality, security and personal service.

NB. SLB Consultants is a trading name of SLB Consultants, a company registered in England and Wales under number 9188292.

Lex Brownings

MBPsS RISC

B4Secure

Company Profile

At B4Secure we specialise in providing services under two disciplines:

- Intelligence Management, Analysis and Profiling
- Cyber Security Awareness

Our intelligence management and analysis services are aimed at any company that undertakes intelligence led investigations, whether that be private investigation companies or enforcement units of larger organisations across any sector. We will work with you to optimise your intelligence processes and provide an enhanced intelligence package for clients, incorporating intelligence and analysis products that assist client understanding and decision making. Our intelligence capability building service is suitable for any company that receives intelligence feeds and wants to introduce or enhance intelligence management and dissemination processes. Building this capability will enable a more pro-active approach to threat management, ensure stakeholders are kept informed of the current intelligence landscape, and facilitate intelligence led decision making at both a tactical and strategic level. We also utilise innovative intelligence profiling techniques to produce crime and community impact profiles which explore all potential crime, disorder and cultural impacts of a specific construction project or major event. Our cyber security awareness services are based on our belief that people are the key to making your business more cyber resilient. We deliver a number of services including information security policy development, awareness training and tabletop exercises. We pride ourselves on our ability to deliver a friendly and personal service which exceeds our clients' expectations.

Personal Details

Lex has many years' experience working in senior roles across law enforcement and central government; her roles include Head of Analysis at City of London Police, Senior Analyst at the London 2012 Olympics Intelligence Centre, and HMG lead for UK Finance Sector Engagement on cyber security. Lex uses her skills and experience to advise clients on all stages of the intelligence cycle and to deliver analytical products that assist in making informed and pro-active operational decisions. Lex also works with clients to understand their cyber threats and to develop bespoke services to enhance cyber resilience and overall security posture. Lex has DV security clearance.

RFMSolutions Ltd

Company Profile

'Work smarter, work smoother, integrate your business strategies, and share the common drive of increased bottom line delivery and ROI.'

This is the mantra of modern business. But how do security solutions align with this?

Assisting in identifying the business needs (including risk and threat analysis); taking account of cultural and different geographical challenges and being mindful of business restrictions; turning that need into a robust beneficial business case; and then further assisting with the implementation to completion, (applications selection; vendor selection; high level Project Management involvement; the often forgotten Process and Procedures; Commissioning, etc) are what RFMSolutions do best.

Traditionally, security solutions are regarded as essential, non-productive budget usurpers. They are a strain on the bottom line rather than an attribute to it.

At RFMSolutions, we believe that your security solutions should be integral with the other key drivers of your business. Be an asset to the bottom line rather than a drain on it.

So when we talk to our clients about security, we not only ensure that we demonstrate the innovative, objective robustness of our security solutions, we also talk about how they are integrated with other business functions to deliver return on investment and enhancement to the company's bottom line.

Companies recognise the cost and efficiency benefits of integration; a concept that best matches your business, not only encompassing the obvious, but the entire breadth of company processes and procedures.

From oilfield to palace, office to conference centre, RFMSolutions have the global reach, and the experience to make your security requirements contribute to the wellbeing of your organisational profitability and efficiency.

Robyn Sones

CCTV Advisory Service

Company Profile

The CCTV Advisory Service breaks with traditional methods of providing consultancy and makes free design services available to organisations that would normally be unable to afford the service of a consultant.

We supply two sources of information to those interested in CCTV:

1. Free design service.
2. The CCTV/Information Website.

FREE DESIGN SERVICE

When clients wish to install or upgrade their CCTV system the CCTV Advisory Service will attend site, design a specification and submit it with budget costs. Having received confirmation that the specification is acceptable it is tendered to three companies that have been vetted and known to work to a high standard at a competitive price. These companies will then submit their tenders direct to the client.

CCTV INFORMATION WEBSITE

Regarded by many as the UK's leading online source of CCTV information, the web site is available to anyone wanting to understand more about CCTV from householders, through business and commerce, to those studying security at college or university. The value of the site is indicated by the 200,000 visits that it receives each year.

Personal Details

With 25 years experience in designing CCTV systems Robyn has gained considerable experience across the spectrum of business and commerce as well as having a large number of clients in education, leisure, local government and the NHS. Other areas of expertise include Historic and listed buildings including clients such as Canterbury Cathedral and Althorp House.

BB7

Company Profile

BB7 is a specialist consulting firm, operating in the niches of fire, security and continuity. We imagine new ways to mitigate risk in within the built environment. BB7's security consultants work with Architects and their design teams, facilities managers, security managers and those with responsibility for security of the built environment to ensure security measures are proportionate, effective and achieve security risk mitigation objectives.

As a multi-disciplined consultancy firm, we are able to offer a holistic approach to risk mitigation, drawing on our respected engineering teams to ensure that systems are robust, scalable and integrate together and with their environment. We contribute to the development of the industries that we operate in and challenge the accepted wisdom to realise design freedom. As independent consultants, we only recommend mitigation measures that represent our client's operational requirements and as such add value that is disproportionate to the cost of our appointment.

Personal Details

Jim Swift is the head of security engineering at BB7 and works with clients to develop performance based solutions to mitigate risk in the built environment. Jim's career started in the City of London Police where he worked primarily in the Counter Terrorism and Serious Crime Directorate and since arriving at BB7 Jim has worked with Housing Associations, M&E teams, architects and designers to ensure that security is effective and offers value for money. Jim is the commercial partner for a new project designed to enhance standards in the security industry, is the joint champion for the Law and Legislation section at the Security Institute, and is the Honorary Secretary for the ASC.

Martin Thomas
RISC MSyl
Marjent Limited
Security & Risk Management Consultants

Company Profile

Marjent is a specialised security risk and management consultancy with a wealth of experience and expertise gained from over 40 years in the Oil & Gas industry and its component businesses, both in the UK and internationally.

Its speciality is in the management and Organisational Development of security provision to individual business units or corporate entities, ensuring that commensurate security and resilience measures are in place. By carrying out an honest, independent “Health Check”, that provides management with the reassurance that all the necessary issues have been reviewed and addressed.

Security advice has to be fully integrated within the business as a whole, it cannot be a separate entity. Marjent brings the skill and experience to ensure that various business managers are engaged in the development of security plans and procedures throughout a specific project or the development of the business. Simply put business managers must own their security, it has to be a fundamental, integral part of the business, not an afterthought.

Personal Details

Martin Thomas is an ex senior manager and internal consultant with strong international experience in Industrial and Retail Security primarily gained over 40 years within the highly safety conscious Oil & Gas industry, working for Texaco, Gulf Oil and Chevron. Remits have covered the protection of people and assets both in the UK and overseas. He has developed and built security teams, led strategy and organisational structuring and has been involved in various industry and government working groups. As well as working for 3 global oil companies, he has previously run a successful consultancy. He was responsible for establishing and developing a security regional operational support and development team across Europe, Eurasia, Middle East and Africa, based in London. This provided specialist support services and organisational development advice to the operational business teams, whether at corporate or business level. . Managed and supported team members in the development of organisational capability, covering physical security standards, fraud prevention measures (especially procurement/supply chain), fraud investigation tools, management and supervision of the Guard Force and training needs assessments. He was the regional subject matter lead used extensively to review and develop major reorganisations of business security departments. Providing consultancy, mentoring and strategic advice to all levels of management across the enterprises, with a proven history of delivering innovative security solutions. As the Regional Adviser for EEME&A, he was responsible for the management of the London based operational security team, covering security management & threat assessments, security awareness and vigilance programmes, audits & investigations, conflict resolution, and people and asset protection across the region. Ensured that the localised operational security plans were “risk based”, fit for purpose and integrated with other continuity and emergency plans.
